

Proposed Adjustments to the Sixth Edition of the *Standards of Good Practice for Education Abroad

July 20, 2023

presented by the 2023 Standards Update Working Group

The 2023 Standards Update Working Group was convened in response to observations from the field and users of the Standards that the language in the current edition could be more inclusive of the experiential learning opportunities that exist under the umbrella of education abroad, e.g., internships, community engaged global learning, etc. The group has considered this feedback and drafted changes to address those concerns. The following changes are submitted for public comment.

Any person or entities who are materially affected by the Standards and changes to them are invited to submit their feedback on this proposal before August 11. For more information about this process, visit The Forum's Standards Development webpage to review our policies.

Tracked changes denote proposed adjustments.

At the end of the "How to Use the Standards" section, we add the following sentence:

"Colleagues seeking more specific guidance tailored to particular types--e.g., internships, community engagement, health-related programs—or facets – e.g., partnerships, advising – of education abroad can find additional support in The Forum's Guidelines series."
