

Code of Ethics Released to the Public

The Forum on Education Abroad Code of Ethics was released to the public on the Forum website on Monday, March 3. The Code was met with very high interest: the Forum website received over 6,000 hits within the first two days of its release. "This Code is the culmination of exhaustive research, discussion, and consensus-building among our members and other stakeholders to establish high standards and a uniform code of ethics for education abroad programs," said Brian Whalen, president and CEO of the Forum. The Forum thanks the many members who contributed to the development of the Code of Ethics.

Boston Conference Updates

Conference registration has now exceeded 560 people! Space is still available for additional registrations, but we urge anyone interested in attending to register as soon as possible to reserve your place for workshops and plenary meals.

The block of rooms reserved for the Forum at the conference hotel is now fully booked. If you are attending the conference and need assistance in securing accommodation, please contact Forum staff by email at info@forumea.org or by phone at 717-245-1031.

Conference Speaker Spotlight: Regge Life

Filmmaker Regge Life brings a wealth of intercultural experience and insights to the Forum conference, and he is eager to share his reflections with us. Conference participants will be able to interact with Regge in an extended session on Friday morning during a special screening of his film, 'A Good Return,' which focuses on the experiences of Americans returning from overseas assignments. The screening will be followed by his luncheon plenary address.

Council Election in Progress

Electronic ballots for the election of members to the Forum Council were emailed to Forum Member Institutional Representatives today. Institutional representatives may cast their ballot on behalf of their organization by replying to the official email by 4:00pm (EST), Friday, March 14. Information about the candidates on the slate can be found on the Forum website at:

If you'd like to share this issue with your colleagues, a PDF is available at our online Archives. The Forum News is free to the public—sign up at www.forumea.org

WELCOME!

Welcome to these new Forum institutional members:

Adelphi University

College of Wooster

SUNY Plattsburg

University of Colorado—
Denver

CONFERENCE RIDE-SHARING

Want to reduce your carbon footprint at the Boston conference? The Forum encourages conference attendees to use public transportation where possible and to share rides with colleagues. The Local Arrangements Committee is facilitating ride-sharing for interested participants. For more information, email forum.carpooling@gmail.com.