

THE GLOBAL LEARNING LAUNCHPAD: A learning community for short-term faculty led program directors

About

The Global Learning Launchpad (GLL) brings together faculty in a learning community setting to inquire into their instructional practices in short-term study abroad programs. Through community meetings and self-directed work, the GLL provides a supportive environment where participants:

- Develop peer relationships across institutions
- Nurture their mutual growth as individuals, educators, and scholarly practitioners.
- Apply insights to their own program making them more culturally relevant, academically sound and equity-minded.

Things to Know

- Two cohorts available - Semester long program beginning January 2024 and Accelerated Summer Program in June 2024. Space is limited.
- Applications accepted:
Sept 15th - November 15th - Semester Program
February 1st - April 1st - Accelerated Program
Virtual and hybrid options available.
- Discounts available for Forum members.
- Scholarships and group rates available.

Questions?

Contact Mary Price, Director of Teaching and Learning, at pricemar@forumea.org

THE FORUM
ON EDUCATION ABROAD

Benefits of the Global Learning Launchpad:

For Faculty

- Access to a network of colleagues steeped in the Standards of Good Practice in Education Abroad and in design and assessment of global learning.
- Access to 1:1 and small group coaching.
- Increased confidence in themselves as program leaders and reflective educators.
- A sense of belonging to a community of educators with shared interests and concerns.
- Accountability support to meet desired teaching and learning goals.
- An enriched teaching portfolio to document excellence in their use of education abroad at their home institution.

For Institutions

- An outsourced, cost-effective learning and mentoring community.
- Efficient, on-demand delivery of professional development training and support.
- Enhanced course/program designs that help to showcase the value of education abroad as a high impact educational practice.

Find out more about the GLL and apply today!

<https://www.forumea.org/global-learning-launchpad.html>

